There are some people in Honolulu who think they the garments they wear cost $30 or $40. The reason is apparent—they are rich.

British Columbia, after an uneventual passage. The Miowera left Vancouver on Nov. 16, at 9 a. m., touched at Victoria and left at 11 p. m. the same day. Neither the purser nor the captain had any papers of the letter data. Nov. 16 rich.

A Fact.

Everybody is not rich—in fact, most people in this meet, and at the end of the for their labor except an under arrest for not having the extra wrinkle or two.

I have something that will strike your fancy in the shape of a Jacket-a Flannel Jacket with a silk stripe -a perfect fit or no sale. I bought several cases of these Jackets very cheap for eash. They are just the thing to slip on to make a call, go to market, a picnie, or church-in fact. they are good enough or poor enough to wear anywhere and everywhere.

The Price. Now this is the important part. After you have selected one that looks well with your dress and you find that it fits, you say, "How much?"

says, "S1.00, madam," or "$1.00 miss," as the case may be, and there you are. The modest Clerk does not

How to Turn Back the Clock. "What time is it, Maggie?" said ohn, with an uneasy sense that he ought to be on his homeward way.
"I'll go and look," sue answered. Stepping quietly into the kitchen the girl pushed the clock hands back an hour, and returning, said, "It's only half-past nine by our o'clock; you can stay an hour longer. So John stayed, for lovers are not eager to part, and he needed no coaxing. The next morning, however, he overslept himself, and Maggie's father, at his breakfast, having missed the train, he intended to journey by that day, wondered how the good old clock could have lost an hour in the night. But Maggie didn't explain. She meant to set it right again before going to bed, but forgot, which shows once more what everybody should remember—that we can set back the clock, but we cannot set back the time. All the same it is possible occa-sionally to regain lost things. In a woman's letter recently received, find this sentence: "They tell me I took ten years younger than I did."

And if she lelt as she looked she was to all practical purposes ten years younger. For, although a clock face looks the same no matter what time it is, a human face doesn't. That changes with the condition of the "works," or the life behind it.

The letter goes on thus; "In the spring of of 1880 I felt weak and low. I had a bad taste in the mouth and a thick slimy phlegm covered my mouth and tongue. I was sick in a morning, retching and vomiting a watery fluid. I had great pain in the head and was very mazy, being at times so bad I could hardly stand upon my feet. After eating the simplest food I had dreadful pain in the left side and palpitation of the heart, and could get but little sleep at night on account of it.

"Gradually I grew weaker and weaker until I could scarcely walk about the house, and but for the necessity of attending to my family, I should have been laid up. My life was a burden and a misery to me, and I often wished myself dead. "Sometimes better and at other times worse; this was my general condition for ten years, during which long period of suffering I was treat-ed by the doctor, and took every kind of medicine I could hear tell of, but got no better. "In November, 1890, I read in a book of a medicine called Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and got a bottle from Mr. E. Banks, the chemist. After I had taken a few doses I found my food agreed with me better. I kept on with the Syrup and gradually gained strength. I had become so thin and emaciated brough all those years of suffering that it took time to fully restore me. But I am now in better health than I ever was in my life, and my recovery has astonished my friends. They tell me I look ten years younger than I did for taking the Syrup. How I wish I had known of it years sooner! My husband and friends had given up all hope of my getting better, but none of us knew of Mother Seigel's Syrup. "On mentioning to the Rev. E. Harries, the Vicar of Christ Church, what had wrought the cure, he said I should write and let the proprietors know what the Syrup had done for me, so as to benefit others. You may publish this statement as you think proper and I will gladly answer inquiries. Yours truly, (signed) (Mrs.) Elizabeth Greenhalgh, 21, Rutlaud street. Newtown, Pendle-bury (near Manchester), May 14,
